Other Important Policies

The Social Work Program at the University of Washington Tacoma is an academic community dedicated to the ideals of social justice. As part of that commitment, the program is working to ensure that it is an environment in which discriminatory and harassing behavior does not occur to any person nor property, based upon race, color, religion, sexual orientation, political orientation, gender, disability or national origin. Procedures exist within the program and the University for preventing and eliminating harassing and discriminatory behavior.

University of Washington Policy Prohibiting Sexual Harassment

Sex discrimination in the form of sexual harassment, defined as the use of one’s authority and power, either explicitly or implicitly, to coerce another into sexual relations or to punish another for his/her refusal, or as the creation by a member of the University Community of an intimidating, hostile or offensive working or educational environment through verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature, shall be a violation of the University of Washington human rights policy (UW Handbook, Vol. IV).

University of Washington Policy Against Discrimination

The University of Washington, as a standing policy, does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, creed, religion, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, age, marital status, disability, or status as a disabled veteran or Vietnam-era veteran. Any discriminatory action can be a cause for disciplinary action. This policy applies to all University programs and facilities, including, but not limited to, admissions, educational programs, employment, and patient and hospital services. Such discrimination is prohibited by Titles VI and VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Sections 503 and 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, Age Discrimination in Employment Act Amendments of 1978, Vietnam-Era Veterans’ Readjustment Assistance Act of 1974, other federal and state statutes and regulations, and University policy. Coordination of the compliance efforts of the University of Washington with respect to all of these laws and regulations is under the direction of the Director for Equal Opportunity and Affirmative Action, Torrey Tiburzi, University of Washington Equal Opportunity Office, Box 351240, 231 Gerberding Hall, Seattle, WA 98195, 206-543-1830 or eoa@uw.edu.
