This Spring quarter, I have worked as a Web Design intern at UX Aglow, a startup company that work for web & UX Design, located Ohio. Throughout the internship, I performed many different tasks and I learned lots of skills. My main priority is work with the client to design, implement and create the website and product catalog, using different front end design technology, such as WordPress and HTML. Also, my deliverable would enable the client to merchandise and advertise their products to desired customers and drive sales for my client's company. Also, I have improved my communication skills by reporting my tasks in meetings.

I am proud that I can apply my fundamental knowledge and technical skills from information technology courses at University of Washington Tacoma (UWT) to my internship
