I am interested in being considered for the Washington State Behavioral Health Workforce Development Initiative that will expand the number of masters-level social workers in Washington state who serve individuals and families experiencing severe mental health or substance use issues. MSW students receive two-year grants, up to $51,500, to offset their graduate education expenses in return for serving three years in approved community-based behavioral health agencies or tribal health centers in Washington state. <input type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No    I understand that this opportunity is need based and will be determined by the information provided on the FAFSA. <input type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No If you responded "yes" above, you will receive additional details once you are formally admitted to the MSW Program. If you have questions, email swcj@uw.edu .
I am interested in the Child Welfare Training and Advancement Program (CWTAP) which is designed for students wishing to pursue a career in public child welfare. CWTAP provides specialized education and financial support to students in CWTAP. In exchange, after receiving their MSW degree, students agree to be employed within the Washington State DCYF (Department of Children, Youth, and Families) Child Welfare Program for an equal amount of time they received financial assistance. <input type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No If you responded "yes" above, you will receive additional details once you are formally admitted to the MSW Program.
