Special Allocations- Criteria

Student Utilization

As of winter quarter 2026 we have exhausted all funding given to CAP by SAFC and were not able to fund any further applicants this quarter. We notified applicants of spring quarter 2026 that they will not receive any CAP funding. This secondary proposal is for additional funds for ongoing needs.

Special Allocations- Statement of Assurances

Funds will be distributed right away to applicants of the Childcare Assistance Program so that they can continue to pay for their childcare costs and attend classes/ remain successful on their academic journey.

Service Benefits to Students

Testimonials have demonstrated that CAP is a valuable resource to nontraditional students. It has made it so that students are able to attend school and maintain employment. Through the testimonials, we have learned that we have provided valuable networking opportunities, resources, and grants that help to enrich the college experience. UW Tacoma is in the top 10 most diverse colleges in Washington, 68% receive financial aid, 43% are Pell grant eligible. A more general look of Student Demographics from the Institute for Woman's Policy Research shows that 22% of college students are student-parents, 55% are single parents, and 53% of them have child(ren) under 6-years-old. The need for assistance from the UWT community for our student caregivers is evident.
