Do you cite your sources when you borrow and/or adapt the learning materials of others? Every or always?

Sine Matt encourages students to "steal" I believe an important question for the panel is for them to define what is plagiarism.

How do you deal with the issue of students being late to classes?

How do you handle marking fairness for group projects?

How do you deal with students who are talking during lectures or disturbing other students?

What is the most difficult situation/encounter you have had in a class environment and how did you deal with.

How was your summer?

How do you deal with the issue of students being late to classes?