

Priority Topics

The Washington Department of Corrections (DOC) supports and conducts research activities relevant to its programs, services, operations, mission, and strategic goals. All research must comply with state and federal guidelines, be reviewed and receive approval from one or more of the following:

- Research and Data Analytics (RDA), and/or
- Washington State Institutional Review Board (WSIRB), and/or
- Research Review Committee (RRC)

All research should be scientifically sound and include:

- Well-defined scope
- Concise research questions
- Rigorous methodology
- Specific data variables requested
- Realistic timeline
- Proposed deliverables

RDA regularly receives research and data requests and must prioritize. Requests are prioritized based on:

- Executive Order and/or legislation, legal mandate, or imminent public safety risk
- Alignment with the agency's mission and strategic goals
- Partnerships with mutual benefit
- Requestor's correctional research experience and subject-matter expertise in the proposed topic
- Available resources to support the requests
