Name: Alex Lee

Project: Keylogger

Faculty Sponsor: D.C. Grant

Abstract:

A keylogger monitors all the input keys from a user. While a keylogger can be used for either good or bad, creating this keylogger was for educational purposes only. Taking a step into security, creating a keylogger from scratch, in this case with Python, allows one to understand how it works, what functionality can be added, and the data that can be retrieved.