Name: Gurpinder Dhanoa
Faculty sponsor: D.C Grant
Project: Got Next
Abstract:

Got Next is a social media gaming meet up application. You will be able to arrange pickup games for your friends or other people in your local community. Varying from all types of games like basketball or video games or card games. This allows organization of whichever game you decide to play whether it be with your friends or the local community. Having an application makes meeting up for games much easier and allows you to play when you want even when your friends are busy. You will also be able to rate players on sportsmanship, so you always know what type of players you are playing with. You can either join or host games at a public location for the local community or a private location for friends.