The Executive Office:
Perspectives from the Military Aide to the President –
An Overview of the Military Aide and Department of Defense support to the President

What does the Military Aide to the President do? What kinds of events require the Military Aide's input? Come hear about the experiences of Owen Ray, Lieutenant Colonel in the US Army and Asia-Pacific Military Fellow at UW Seattle and UW Tacoma 2016-2017. He will highlight some key events from his 2011-2013 tenure, including the 2012 election, domestic and international crises, and the unique and special events that seemingly happen every day.

Hosted by:
Office of Global Affairs and
Office of Veteran & Military Services and Institute for Global Engagement
