Faculty Affairs Committee Meeting Minutes
February 17, 2016  12:30-1:30pm  CP 303

Present: Margo Bergman; Marian Harris; Katie Haerling (via phone); Greg Benner.
Absent: David Schuessler; Ann Frost.

1) Consent Agenda
   a) The December 2, 2015 and January 20, 2016 Faculty Affairs Committee Meeting Minutes were approved.

Chair’s Report and Discussion items

2) Diversity Component in Charge
   The Revised Charge has been taken to Faculty Assembly Chair, Marcie Lazzari, and will be presented to the Executive Council in March. Then it will be taken to a full faculty vote in April.

3) Childcare Survey  Appendix A: Draft Survey
   Chair and Vice Chair of Faculty Assembly reviewed the drafted Childcare Survey. They requested that there be a rationale in the email that sends out the survey indicating the reasons for the survey. It is approved to be sent out with the addition of the rationale.

   Administratively, student email listservs are still being gathered, Faculty Assembly leadership are meeting soon and will discuss the approval for a $20 gift card purchased with the discretionary budget. Once the survey is created in catalyst, Faculty Affairs Committee members with pilot it before it is sent out to campus. Another deliverable of this work will be to add childcare resources to the Faculty Affairs website.

   Laura Botello of replied to Marian and answered some of the questions that the committee had. She has been trying to track down another childcare survey that had been conducted a few years ago.

   The hope is to get this survey out by the end of the academic year.

4) Childcare Centers  Appendix B: Childcare Centers information and link
   FAC member, Greg Benner, found information on Kindercare. This particular Kindercare is located in North End Tacoma and is at the higher end of the price spectrum. FAC Chair, Marian Harris, found information on Children of Hope. This childcare center is less expensive than Kindercare and Muse, and is located closely to UWT campus. Children of Hope Childcare Center also takes newborns. There is also a live page of places that UWT students have used before. There is a link (Appendix A) to a “Finding Childcare” page that lists Muse and the UWY drop in (for while exercising or at a meeting.) The list should include the website address for each of the daycare centers.

   Potential site visit to Children of Hope (this center is also piloting STEM early education). Questions about 1 year old care verses 2 year old care price difference. Within the Children of Hope information, there needs to be a definition of “drop in” with availability and also define the age ranges.

   Is there late-evening care at any of these centers? Is there space, then, to recommend that UWT has an evening care program for school age children? It would be on-site. It would be too much to start with on-campus infant care. The training required for watching school-age children would be a background check and volunteer experience. The committee could see this campus being able to fill this need. This is something to potentially recommend.

5) Our Childcare Aware of Washington Regions  Appendix C: Link
   The old directory of daycare centers doesn’t exist anymore. Instead, one would need to inquiry regionally for a list of licensed daycares. The committee will include this in the report and recommendations document as a reference.

6) Pre-Tenure Track Clock Policy  Appendix D: Texas Tech example Policy
   The committee doesn’t know of any internal policy or any policy within the faculty code that speaks to this issue. FAC will draft a proposed policy and will bring it to the executive council. There was a recommendation to look at other university models for this policy.
The policy should broadly apply to any FMLA qualifying event, i.e. “other extraordinary circumstances.” One shouldn’t be penalized for things outside of your control. A committee member searched online and found Texas Tech’s policy as a good, straight-forward model to follow. This policy differentiated between a leave of absence and a request for an extension the “tenure-clock.” Extensions by year would make the most sense when dealing with locked in deadlines. Committee discussed inviting Jim Gawel, chair of APT, to a future meeting in order to discuss this and answer policy questions. Chair, Marian Harris, will make a draft of this policy. The goal will be to present it to EC before the end of the academic year.

7) Other Business
Time Schedule Matrix

There is concern about the hours and scheduling of classes; teaching back to back. This is problematic for students and teachers. Who do we address this with? Have heard this issue from many faculty; a multi-pronged problem. The new schedule had its roots in lack of physical space; now that we’re adding more space, will that help? It was also based on growth, and the actual growth has not met the projected growth.

Are there any other groups working on this issue? It was on the last Executive Council meeting agenda as an update because more people are finding it to be an issue. SAASFA is also talking about this issue. The Chancellor encouraged that group to bring a proposed plan to cabinet. FA administrative coordinator will connect FAC and SAASFA to collaborate on this. It’s a huge faculty concern, but they don’t talk about it because they don’t think that there is anything they can do about it. It’s a big, impactful issue for faculty and students. For instance, Friday classes go right into meetings, and it doesn’t allow for a lunch break. FAC members will inquire in their programs about this issue.

Stop the Clock Policies at TTU and TTUHSC

The following excerpts on stop the clock policies for tenure-track faculty are taken from the Regent's Rules, http://www.depts.ttu.edu/oppol/

TTU Stop the Clock Policy
Chapter 4, Page 6, section 3

"All time accrued in full-time service at Texas Tech University in a tenure-eligible rank will be counted in the probationary period. If unusual circumstances justify a suspension of the tenure probationary period to cause the years included not to be sequential, a request for an extension of the probationary period may be made to the provost. The request will be initiated by the candidate, reviewed and commented upon by the department/division administrator and dean, and forwarded to the provost."

TTUHSC Stop the Clock Policy
Chapter 4, Page 23, section e

"Extension of tenure-track probationary period. A TTUHSC faculty member may request an extension of his/her maximum probationary period (as set forth above) in order to accommodate the faculty member's duties in childbearing, childrearing, caring for a seriously ill family member, or other extraordinary circumstances. This period of time is explicitly not a leave of absence but rather is a defined period during which expectations for faculty performance are adjusted to reflect a faculty member's past or current circumstances."
The maximum extension that may be granted a faculty member is three years regardless of the combination of circumstances. A faculty member who is granted an extension of the probationary period will be judged and evaluated on the same basis and by the same standards as though there had been no extension.

(1) Parenting a new child. An untenured, tenure-track faculty member who becomes the parent of a child by birth or adoption during the probationary period for tenure may request a one year extension of his/her maximum probationary period to provide time to adjust to the demands of parenting newly born or adopted children. An application for a second such extension can be submitted upon completion of the first extension.

Requests for extensions of the probationary period must be submitted as soon as possible after the birth or adoption. If both parents are employed in an eligible position at TTUHSC, each of them may request an extension of the probationary period for each birth or adoption that adds a child or children to their family.

(2) Extraordinary circumstances. When faced with extraordinary circumstances, an untenured, tenure track faculty member may request an extension of up to three years of the maximum probationary period for reasons beyond the faculty member's control that deprive him/her of reasonable opportunity to demonstrate his/her ability and potential as a faculty member. Examples of extraordinary circumstances include, but are not limited to, care for a seriously ill child or family member, physical disaster affecting research materials, and exceptional institutional responsibilities.

(3) Procedure for requesting an extension. A faculty member who wishes to request that the maximum probationary period be extended should make a request to that effect to his/her department chair. The request should include a detailed description of the circumstances thought to warrant an extension. The chair of the faculty member's department shall submit a memorandum to the appropriate dean outlining the department's view on the validity of the request. The dean's recommendation is sent to the executive vice president for academic affairs for final approval. Appeals may be made to the president."
